The Sealed Portion – The Final Testament of Jesus Christ

Foundational Chapter: Chapter 1

Focal Verse: TSP 32:52

Written under the Mind of Christ

“For behold, I have covenanted with the children of men from the beginning, that if it so be that they exercise faith in me and keep my commandments in all things, believing that I can show unto them the mysteries of godliness, behold, I will come unto them by the power of the Holy Ghost; and he shall teach them whatsoever their hearts desire, if it so be that they ask in righteousness.”

— The Sealed Portion 1:6

“O ye of little faith, who have set up stumbling blocks before you because ye do not ask of the Lord concerning these things. But do not think that ye can just ask of the Lord and he shall give these things unto you. For if ye do not obey his words, then ye are not worthy of his understanding.”

 DEDICATION

This book is dedicated to the few.
To those who never stopped believing when the heavens went silent.
To those who searched the sealed book with trembling hands and tear-stained eyes.
To the one who asked in righteousness, not for curiosity's sake, but for covenant's sake.
To the hidden ones,
the outcasts,
the scattered,
the mocked.
To the faithful remnant who were told they were too much, too deep,
too different—and kept reading anyway.
To those who were never seeking mystery, but seeking Him.

 “The secret of the Lord is with them that fear Him; and He will show them His covenant.”

— Psalm 25:14

 OPENING DECREE

The Mystery Is Only Hidden From the Unfaithful
Let it be declared in the presence of heaven and earth:
This scroll is not a product of intellect, but of obedience.
It was not written in haste, but under commandment.
And it shall not be opened by study alone, but only by the Spirit to those prepared by fire.
These are not pages.
These are keys.
They unlock what was once hidden.
They are not distributed to the masses—they are sealed to the faithful.
If you seek the secrets of the kingdom but reject the laws of the King, turn back now.
If you mock the vessels but long for the vault, you are already disqualified.
For the Spirit has spoken once, and again it echoes from the sealed portion:

— TSP 32:52

Therefore,

Let the arrogant be confounded.

Let the pretenders be exposed.

Let the obedient rise.

Let the mystery begin.

🔑 PREFACE

Why the Mysteries Remain Sealed

The mysteries of God are not hidden to protect divine ego—they are hidden because man has abandoned the covenant.

They are sealed not because they are unknowable—but because too many ask with lips while their hearts remain closed.

This is not a book for the merely curious.

This is a witness to the covenant—the one made from the beginning:

that only those who walk in obedience and faith shall receive what was hidden from the foundation of the world.

— TSP 1:6

Too many today chase information, not transformation.

They seek hidden things while mocking revealed things.

They say, "Show me the sealed scrolls," yet trample the commandments underfoot.

To these, the mysteries remain sealed.

To these, the veil remains shut.

But to the few—

the broken, the obedient, the trembling remnant—a whisper from the Spirit begins to break the seal.

 “There are none save a few only, who have faith enough to behold the things that the Brother of Jared saw.”

— TSP 1:4

This book is not the mystery.

This book is a pathway to the mystery.

It cannot be read with the mind alone—

It must be read with a heart ready to obey.

If you have stumbled over your own doubt,

If you have set up barriers through pride, sin, or rebellion,

Then hear the rebuke—not from man,

But from the sealed record itself:

 “O ye of little faith, who have set up stumbling blocks before you because ye do not ask of the Lord... For if ye do not obey his words, then ye are not worthy of his understanding.”

— TSP 32:52

This is the witness.

This is the warning.

This is the way.

🔥 CHAPTER 1

The Language Was Confounded

In the beginning, man spoke one tongue.

Not of culture, but of covenant.

Not for communication only, but for communion with the Creator.

The language was pure.

Not merely words—

but vibrations of obedience, expressions of alignment,

a shared breath with the Most High.

But when pride entered the tower, the tongue of heaven was shattered.

And what was once united became confused.

The builders were scattered,

not by distance,

but by disconnection.

📜 “And the whole earth was of one language, and of one speech... and the LORD said, Behold, the people is one...

now nothing will be restrained from them... so the LORD did there confound the language of all the earth."

— Genesis 11:1, 6–7

From that moment, the pure language of the heavens was replaced with the dialects of flesh.
Languages multiplied, but understanding diminished.

The sacred was buried beneath the syllables of man.
Thus began the long silence.

Not because God ceased to speak, but because man no longer understood the voice.

The prophets spoke in the original tongue, but the people heard thunder.

The mysteries were declared in plainness, but the disobedient called them riddles.

 “God is not the author of confusion, but of peace, as in all churches of the saints.”

— 1 Corinthians 14:33

Even now, many read the words of the Sealed Book and cannot perceive its sound.

Because the language is not Hebrew nor English—it is obedience.

It is righteousness.

It is faith.

 “For it is given unto many to know the mysteries of God; nevertheless, they are laid under a strict command that they shall not impart only according to the portion of his word which he doth grant unto the children of men.”

— Alma 12:9

And to those who disobey, even the little they know shall be taken.

Because the mysteries are not revealed by curiosity, but by covenant.

The language was confounded—but not forever.

For in the last days,
the tongue of understanding shall return.

The Spirit shall translate again.

The Voice shall be heard by those who remember the covenant.

 “Then will I turn to the people a pure language, that they may all call upon the name of the Lord, to serve Him with one consent.”

— Zephaniah 3:9

And so, this book speaks in that tongue.

Not to the ears,

but to the faithful heart.

Not in debate,

but in decree.

To those who obey,

the language will unfold like fire on dry wood.

To those who mock,

it will sound like thunder again.

 The language was confounded—

but to the faithful, the tongue is being restored.

🔥 CHAPTER 2

Few Have Faith Enough
The heavens do not hide—they respond.
But not to noise.
Not to pride.
Only to faith.
And not the kind that boasts,
but the kind that obeys without understanding.

— The Sealed Portion 1:4

This is the great filter.

Not knowledge.

Not zeal.

But faith—

faith that waits, faith that surrenders, faith that believes God

even when the mystery remains sealed.

The brother of Jared saw the finger of the Lord.

But first he believed without seeing.

He climbed the mount with stones in hand, not knowing what would come.

 “And because of thy faith thou hast seen that I shall take upon me flesh and blood; and never has man come before me with such exceeding faith as thou hast...”

— Ether 3:9

But in this generation, men ask before obeying.

They want sight before submission.

They demand revelation while rejecting repentance.

And so, they walk in circles, scrolls in hand,

but no light within.

 “Ye shall receive no witness until after the trial of your faith.”

— Ether 12:6

Only a few walk this road.

Fewer still reach the veil.

And among them,
some turn back at the edge, because their faith was still in self.

Faith enough—means laying down your questions, and picking up His instructions.

Faith enough—
means trusting that He is the rewarder of those who seek not just answers, but Him.

 “Strait is the gate, and narrow is the way, which leadeth unto life, and few there be that find it.”

— Matthew 7:14

It is not the sealed book that is hard—
It is the narrowness of true faith that few can walk.

And so He waits.

Not for the learned.

But for the faithful.

 The mysteries are not withheld from many—they are revealed to the few who believe enough to obey.

🔥 CHAPTER 3

The Mysteries Belong to the Obedient You may search the scriptures for years, cross-reference scrolls, debate doctrine,
and still find yourself on the outside of the vault.
Because the code is not cracked by intellect—but by obedience.

📜 “For if ye do not obey His words, then ye are not worthy of His understanding.”

— The Sealed Portion 32:52

There is a sacred economy in heaven:
Revelation is currency traded only in the marketplace of submission.
He reveals more only to those who have done more with what they already received.

📜 “Unto him that receiveth I will give more; and from them that say they receive and do not—I shall take even that which they have.”

(paraphrased truth)

You do not unlock the next mystery by arguing over the last one.

You unlock it by living it.

Obedience is not perfection.

It is pursuit.

It is falling forward.

It is choosing to walk in the light you already have, before asking for more.

 “If any man will do His will, he shall know of the doctrine...”

— John 7:17

Many want the sealed portion while still rejecting the first portion.
They reject the commandments, but desire the secrets.

They dismiss repentance,
but want prophecy.

They will not be given the mysteries—because the mysteries are not things, they are depths.

And you cannot swim in deep waters

if you refuse to leave the shore.

 “The natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God... neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned.”

— 1 Corinthians 2:14

The obedient heart becomes the scroll.

The Spirit writes on it.

Line upon line.

Precept upon precept.

Obedience upon obedience.

 “He that hath my commandments, and keepeth them, he it is that loveth me... and I will manifest myself to him.”

— John 14:21

So if you desire to know what was hidden from the world, begin by obeying what is already revealed.

The mystery is not locked by God.

It is guarded by your own disobedience.

And it will remain sealed until your life becomes the yes

He's been waiting for.

 The mysteries are not rewards for curiosity—they are revelations for the obedient.

🔥 CHAPTER 4

The Record of the Remnant

He did not hide the sealed portion from the world.

He hid it for the remnant.

For those who would return.

For those who would remember.

For those who would repent.

📜 “And the remnant shall return, even the remnant of Jacob, unto the mighty God.”

— Isaiah 10:21

The book was sealed, not to be forgotten,

but to be preserved—

until the final sons and daughters of Zion would awaken from slumber and begin to hunger again.

📜 “And the words of the faithful shall speak as if from the dust...”

— 2 Nephi 26:16

It was never meant for the rulers of empires, nor for the priests of tradition.

It was meant for the lowly,
the scattered,
the despised, the awakened.

 “Wherefore, the fruit of thy loins shall write, and the fruit of the loins of Judah shall write... and these two shall grow together.”

— 2 Nephi 3:12

The two sticks—

Joseph and Judah—shall speak as one in the hands of the final generation.

 “Take thee one stick, and write upon it, For Judah... then take another stick... For Joseph... and join them one to another... and they shall become one in thine hand.”

— Ezekiel 37:16–17

This is the work.

Not of academia, but of prophecy.
Not of translation only,

but of restoration.

The remnant does not seek fame—

they seek the face of God.

They are not satisfied with crumbs—they seek the sealed.

 “Therefore write the things which ye have seen, and the things which are, and the things which shall be hereafter... and seal up those things which the seven thunders uttered, and write them not.”

— Revelation 1:19; 10:4

But now,

in this generation of awakening, the seals begin to shake.

The dust begins to cry out.

And the remnant begins to remember what was always theirs.

 “For the Lord shall set His hand again the second time to recover the remnant of His people...”

— Isaiah 11:11

These words were kept so you could wake up to them now.

This record was buried so it could be resurrected in you.

 The sealed book was always for the remnant.
And the remnant is returning.

🔥 CHAPTER

The Things Hidden from the Foundation

There are things the prophets longed to see.

There are truths even angels waited to behold.

And there are words written before the world began, reserved only for the final unveiling.

📜 “I will utter things which have been kept secret from the foundation of the world.”

— Matthew 13:35

Not hidden because God is cruel, but because man was not yet ready.

Because the covenant had not yet been restored.

Because the remnant had not yet returned.

📜 “These plates should be kept bright; for they retain the revelations of the Lord which were upon them... even the smallest things shall confound the wise.”

— Alma 37:4–6

And now, in the last hour, the secrets of the scroll begin to breathe again.
Not because time revealed them, but because the Spirit declared: now.

 “For it shall come to pass in that day, that the Lord shall reveal all things... things which have been kept hidden from before the foundation of the world.”

— Doctrine & Covenants 101:32–33

These are not surface truths.

These are foundational truths.

They were laid before Eden, before Sinai, before Zion,

before Babylon.

Truths buried beneath layers of rebellion, waiting for a generation who would dig by faith.

 “He revealeth the deep and secret things...”

— Daniel 2:22

These are the things that restore identity.

That destroy confusion.

That reveal the serpent and the scroll side by side.

These are the things that cost you something.

Because revelation always costs.

It costs your pride.

It costs your comfort.

It costs your religion.

But in exchange—

you receive fire.

And fire purifies everything.

 “Call unto me, and I will answer thee, and show thee great and mighty things, which thou knowest not.”

— Jeremiah 33:3

These are the mysteries that turn hearts of stone into altars of covenant.

The mysteries that awaken lineage, realign bloodlines,

and expose imposters.

These are the things hidden from the foundation—but no longer.

For the seals are cracking.

The book is in motion.

The Spirit is speaking again.

And the faithful are beginning to understand.

 You are not just reading the mystery.

You are standing inside it.

🔥 CHAPTER 6

A New Name, A New Witness

When the mystery touches a man, he cannot remain the same.

The scroll doesn't just reveal secrets—it reveals you.

The one who receives the sealed word is marked.

Not by title.

Not by tradition.

But by transformation.

📜 “And I will give him a white stone, and in the stone a new name written, which no man knoweth saving he that receiveth it.”

— Revelation 2:17

This is not poetic.

This is covenantal.

A new name signifies a change in status—from servant to son, from follower to witness,

from wanderer to sealed.

 “They were called the children of God, and the name was given them by Him who was from the beginning.”

— Mosiah 5:7

To receive the sealed portion is not merely to read it—but to be read by it.

The Spirit will search you.

The Word will weigh you.

And what you were before,
you can no longer be.

— Isaiah 62:2

The new name is not just a label.

It is an assignment.

It is an identity birthed by revelation.

When you receive it,
you become part of the mystery.

Not a reader—a witness.

 “Ye are my witnesses, saith the Lord, and my servant whom I have chosen...”

— Isaiah 43:10

You no longer just carry the Word—you become the Word.

You walk differently.

Speak differently.

Endure differently.

Because to whom much is given, much is required.

 “It is required in stewards, that a man be found faithful.”

— 1 Corinthians 4:2

This is why the mysteries are reserved.

Because they transform.

Because they assign.

Because they seal you into something you cannot walk away from.

 “Thy name shall be called no more Jacob, but Israel: for as a prince hast thou power with God and with men, and hast prevailed.”

— Genesis 32:28

To be renamed by God is to be claimed by God.

And the sealed book is not read with the eyes—it is engraved upon the soul.

 The mystery gives more than knowledge—it gives a name.

It gives a mantle.

It gives a mission.

🔥 CHAPTER 7

The Veil Shall Be Rent

There is a barrier between heaven and earth—not built by the Father, but by the fall of man.

A veil of separation, woven from unbelief, rebellion, and fear.

And yet,
the veil was never meant to be permanent.

It was meant to protect until the faithful returned.
Until someone came with clean hands and a broken spirit.

📜 “Having therefore, brethren, boldness to enter into the holiest by the blood of Jesus... by a new and living way... through the veil, that is to say, His flesh.”

— Hebrews 10:19–20

This veil was pierced by blood.

Ripped by righteousness.

Torn in two at the moment when the Lamb fulfilled the scroll.

 “And the veil of the temple was rent in twain from the top to the bottom.”

— Mark 15:38

But many still live behind it.

Because though it was torn from above, it must be walked through from below.

And few are willing to approach the torn place.

 “Draw nigh to God, and He will draw nigh to you.”

— James 4:8

The sealed portion is not just a book—
it is a veil-ripping.

It exposes every idol of the heart,
every false doctrine,
every imposter masquerading as truth.

 “And when ye shall receive these things... ask God... with a sincere heart, with real intent, having faith in Christ,
He will manifest the truth of it unto you, by the power of the Holy Ghost.”

— Moroni 10:4

But real intent is rare.
Most ask out of curiosity—not covenant.

They want a glimpse behind the veil without surrendering what's in front of it.

 “Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God.”
— Matthew 5:8

The veil is not removed for the rebellious.

It parts for the repentant.

It opens for the sealed.

And when it opens,

it demands everything.

Because once you behold Him, you cannot go back.

Once you taste the truth,
you can't return to mixture.

 “And by the power of the Holy Ghost ye may know the truth of all things.”

— Moroni 10:5

The veil shall be rent—
but not for spectators.

Only for those who come with the stones of faith, the tears of obedience, and the fire of surrender.

 The veil is tearing.

Will you enter,
or will you run?

Few Will Understand

The sealed words were never hidden from man—they were hidden from pride.

They were buried beneath obedience, and only the humble ever found the shovel.

 “And He said, Go, and tell this people, Hear ye indeed, but understand not; and see ye indeed, but perceive not.”

— Isaiah 6:9

This is the mystery of the mystery:

It is only understood by those who do not seek it for understanding.

They seek it for alignment.

They seek it to please the Father.

And because of that,

they are given eyes to see.

 “It is given unto you to know the mysteries of the kingdom of heaven, but to them it is not given.”

— Matthew 13:11

Most will not understand.

Because most do not want to be changed—they only want to be informed.

And the mysteries were never meant to inform.
They were meant to transform.

 “They seeing see not; and hearing they hear not, neither do they understand.”

— Matthew 13:13

To understand these things is not a matter of study.
It is a matter of surrender.

The scroll cannot be understood by the rebellious.
The sealed cannot be opened by the arrogant.
It is the meek who inherit these mysteries.
It is the lowly who are shown the hidden paths.

 “I thank thee, O Father... because thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them unto babes.”

— Matthew 11:25

The few who understand are not more intelligent—they are more yielded.
They are not better spoken—

they are more silent before God.

And because they empty themselves, they are filled with what the world can never grasp.

 “The natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God... neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned.”

— 1 Corinthians 2:14

So when you read this scroll, and it cuts your heart—
thank Him.

You are among the few.

When it makes you weep with joy or sorrow—
thank Him.

You are among the few.

When it unlocks something that no man explained—
thank Him.

You are among the few.

For many shall handle the book.
Few shall understand it.

 “Because ye ask not in righteousness, and do not obey, behold, ye remain in your ignorance.”

— TSP 32:52 (paraphrased flow)

 The mystery is unfolding, but few will recognize it—because few are willing to become what it reveals.

🔥 CHAPTER 9

The Spirit Will Witness

The mysteries cannot be proven in debate.

They are not verified by scholarship.

They are not validated by councils, clergy, or consensus.

Only the Spirit can testify of sealed things.

And when the Spirit speaks, every other voice must be silent.

 “And by the power of the Holy Ghost ye may know the truth of all things.”

— Moroni 10:5

You may hear a man preach.

You may read a sealed scroll.

You may sit in the quiet with the pages of revelation in your hand.

But if the Spirit does not confirm it—then it remains closed to you.

 “When he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth... and he will show you things to come.”

— John 16:13

And yet many today read the sealed portion with carnal eyes.

They approach holy ground with unwashed hands.

They expect understanding, but refuse the One who brings it.

The Spirit will not witness to rebellion.

But the moment the heart breaks, the moment repentance is real,

the moment you ask in righteousness—

the veil trembles, and the Ruach HaQodesh descends.

 “If ye shall ask with a sincere heart, with real intent, having faith in Christ, he will manifest the truth of it unto you, by the power of the Holy Ghost.”

— Moroni 10:4

This is not emotion.

This is revelation.

This is the true witness—not a man, not a movement, but the voice of the Holy Spirit bearing record that these things are true.

 “The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God.”

— Romans 8:16

You are not alone in your search.

He sees your hunger.

He measures your motives.

And if you have obeyed His voice,

He will answer with more.

 “The Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in my name, he shall teach you all things...”

— John 14:26

No one can take this from you.

No one can argue it away.

No one can counterfeit it.

The witness of the Spirit is the final word.

And when it comes,

you will know that you are standing in the scroll.

 “For it is not possible that a man should behold all the works of God, save it be by the power of the Holy Ghost.”

— TSP 1:6 (paraphrased flow)

🔥 CHAPTER 10

The Appointment with Truth

There is a time for everything.

Even truth.

You cannot force the unveiling.

You cannot rush the revelation.

Because every mystery has an appointed time, and every soul has a designated moment to receive it.

📜 “To every thing there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven.”

— Ecclesiastes 3:1

Some were not ready last year.

Some were not ready last night.

But today—something breaks.

Today, the veil thins.

Today, the Spirit whispers,

“This is your hour.”

— Amos 3:7

This is the hour of uncovering.
The hour of divine appointments.
Not set by man,
but written in the heavens.
Not rescheduled by emotion, but triggered by obedience.

 “And these things shall be made known unto them in mine own due time.”

— 3 Nephi 26:9

You were not late to the mystery.

You were right on time.

Because only the Spirit knows when the heart is soft enough to hold what's heavy.

Some scrolls cannot be received until you've wept.

Until you've been crushed.

Until pride has been peeled away like an old garment.

Only then can the garment of light be placed upon you.

 “He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith...”

— Revelation 2:7

And when your appointment comes,
you will know it.

The words will strike different.

The page will feel alive.

You will not just read the truth—you will collide with it.

 “Blessed is he that readeth, and they that hear the words of this prophecy... for the time is at hand.”

— Revelation 1:3

Do not miss your appointment trying to sit with the crowd.

The mystery does not appear in the echo chamber.

It appears in the secret place.

 “But thou, when thou prayest, enter into thy closet... and thy Father which seeth in secret shall reward thee openly.”

— Matthew 6:6

If you are here, it is because the Spirit summoned you.

Not for information—

but for impartation.

He is not teaching you history.

He is introducing you to yourself.

He is calling you to destiny.

And that destiny begins at the exact moment

you say yes to truth.

 “Today, if ye will hear His voice, harden not your hearts.”

— Hebrews 3:15

 This is not coincidence.

This is your appointment with truth.

Don’t miss it.

🔥 CHAPTER 11

Not Worthy of Understanding

He is not hiding it from you—

He is protecting it from you, if you refuse to obey.

Because to give understanding to the rebellious is to hand a torch to a thief.

It will not be used for light, but for burning down what is holy.

— The Sealed Portion 32:52

The mysteries are guarded by righteousness.

They are withheld,

not out of cruelty,

but out of covenant protection.

God will not pour living water into broken cisterns.

📜 “The light of the body is the eye: if therefore thine eye be single, thy whole body shall be full of light... But if thine eye be evil, thy whole body shall be full of darkness.”

— Matthew 6:22–23

You cannot understand truth
if you only want it to prove a point.

You cannot understand the sealed if your ears are tuned to pride.

Truth is not a trophy.

It is a trust.

 “It is given unto many to know the mysteries of God;
nevertheless, they are laid under a strict command... according to the heed and diligence which they give unto Him.”

— Alma 12:9

He measures your obedience before He unlocks the scroll.

He watches how you handle what's small before He releases what's sealed.

And if you play with what is holy,
the scroll will disappear from your sight.

 “Therefore they shall remain in ignorance, because they are not worthy of the mysteries of God.”

— TSP 1:52 (paraphrased with intent)

Many pretend to want truth—but they cannot even keep commandments.

They want revelation,
but not repentance.

They want the reward of righteousness without the walk of it.

 “He that turneth away his ear from hearing the law, even his prayer shall be abomination.”

— Proverbs 28:9

If you find yourself unable to grasp it, do not blame the scroll.

Search your life.

Search your heart.

Is there rebellion He already spoke to that you ignored?

 “And whosoever hath, to him shall be given, and he shall have more abundance: but whosoever hath not... even that he hath shall be taken away.”

— Matthew 13:12

Understanding is not a right—it is a reward.

And the only ones worthy of it are those who fear the One who gives it.

 “The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom: a good understanding have all they that do His commandments.”

— Psalm 111:10

 If you want the sealed, prove you are worthy by obeying what's already been revealed.

Not Worthy of Understanding
Heaven does not waste its breath.
It speaks only to those who will listen.
It reveals only to those who will respond.
And to those who mock, delay, or disobey—the mystery shuts like a sealed vault.

 “For if ye do not obey His words, then ye are not worthy of His understanding.”

— The Sealed Portion 32:52

You do not earn the mystery—you align with it.
And alignment begins with obedience.

Without it, your prayers are noise.

Your searching is futile.

Your questions are met with silence, not because God is absent,

but because you are not positioned to hear.

 “Unto the obedient He reveals mysteries, yea, even the deep things of God; but to the disobedient, even that which they think they know shall be taken away.”

— (paraphrased flow from TSP 1:52; Matthew 13:12)

There is no shortcut.

No amount of study will force the Spirit’s hand.

No academic title, no Hebrew class, no knowledge of the sealed names can make you worthy to understand if your life refuses to bow.

 “Because they seeing see not; and hearing they hear not, neither do they understand... for this people’s heart is waxed gross... lest at any time they should see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and should understand with their heart, and should be converted, and I should heal them.”

— Matthew 13:13–15

The more disobedient you are,
the more you will misunderstand even what is true.
Rebellion corrupts perception.

It bends light until even revelation looks like confusion.

 “Woe unto them that call evil good, and good evil; that put darkness for light, and light for darkness...”

— Isaiah 5:20

This is why the scroll remains sealed to many.

Not because God is unfair.

But because understanding is holy—and He will not cast pearls before swine.

You must first repent of every false thing you've entertained, every commandment you've trampled, every moment you hardened your heart when the Spirit was near.

 “They that are unworthy cannot abide the presence of God; wherefore, He withdraws His Spirit.”

— Doctrine & Covenants 1:35–37 (flowed paraphrase)

This is not about perfection.

It is about posture.
Even David sinned,
but when he was rebuked,
he didn't argue—he tore his garment and fasted in dust.

 “Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me... Cast me not away from thy presence; and take not thy holy spirit from me.”

— Psalm 51:10–11

There is a cost to understanding.

And the price is your will.

He will not speak beyond what you've already ignored.

He will not reveal until you've repented.

The disobedient are not merely blind—they are self-blinded.

They stumble over truths they refuse to apply.

They treat holy words like riddles because their hearts resist surrender.

 “And the word of the Lord was unto them precept upon precept... line upon line... that they might go, and fall backward, and be broken, and snared, and taken.”

— Isaiah 28:13

You cannot study your way past rebellion.

You must repent your way back to clarity.

Only then will the scroll begin to unfold.

Only then will the Spirit lean near and whisper:

“You are ready.”

 “The secret of the Lord is with them that fear Him; and He will show them His covenant.”

— Psalm 25:14

So let it be declared—

If the mysteries seem confusing,

If the scroll seems sealed,

If the fire has not fallen,

Then ask not, “Why won’t He speak?”

Ask, “Where have I stopped obeying?”

 “He that turneth away his ear from hearing the law, even his prayer shall be abomination.”

— Proverbs 28:9

You must return to the last thing He told you.

Obey that.

Finish that assignment.

Surrender that area.

And watch the heavens open again.

 Heaven holds no secrets from the obedient.

But it holds everything back from the proud.

You are not denied understanding.

You are invited into repentance.

🔥 CHAPTER 12

Stumbling Blocks of the Disobedient

Disobedience is not passive.

It builds.

It accumulates.

It lays bricks in front of your spirit until what was once clear becomes clouded, and what was once reachable feels unreachable.

These bricks become stumbling blocks—not laid by God, but by you.

📜 “O ye of little faith, who have set up stumbling blocks before you because ye do not ask of the Lord concerning these things...”

— The Sealed Portion 32:52

You asked, but you did not obey.

You searched, but you would not surrender.

You fasted, but refused to forgive.

You wanted His revelation without yielding to His regulation.

And so, He stepped back.
Not in wrath, but in righteousness.
Because His mysteries are holy—and the disobedient would only use them as trophies, not tools.

 “They stumble at the word, being disobedient:
whereunto also they were appointed.”

— 1 Peter 2:8

The stumbling block is not the scroll.

It is your resistance.

Your unwillingness to give up idols.

Your refusal to let go of secret sins.

Your pride, your mixture, your divided loyalties.

 “He is a stone of stumbling, and a rock of offence, even to them which stumble at the word...”

The word offends the rebellious.

It cuts too deep.

It demands too much.

And rather than bow, many choose to stumble.

 “For the commandment is a lamp; and the law is light; and reproofs of instruction are the way of life.”

— Proverbs 6:23

But the disobedient hate reproof.

They prefer sermons that soothe.

Scrolls that flatter.

Words that entertain.

But the sealed portion will never be that.

It was never sent to entertain—it was sent to expose.

To purge.

To prepare.

 “This is the condemnation, that light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light... for everyone that doeth evil hateth the light.”

— John 3:19–20

Your stumbling block is not intellectual.

It is spiritual.

It is your refusal to allow the Word to correct what you have excused.

And until that rebellion is broken, understanding will be withheld.

 “They have made their faces harder than a rock; they have refused to return.”

— Jeremiah 5:3

You don’t need more information.

You need a clean heart.

You don’t need a deeper teaching.

You need deeper repentance.

Because your disobedience has become a staircase of offense, leading you away from the gate.

 “If ye were blind, ye should have no sin: but now ye say, We see; therefore your sin remaineth.”

— John 9:41

Until you admit you’ve stumbled, you will continue to fall.

But if you will cry out—if you will throw down the stumbling block and return to the voice of obedience—the scroll will meet you where you are.

— Isaiah 57:14

 The mystery was never the block—disobedience was.

Tear it down, and you'll see again.

Stumbling Blocks of the Disobedient

When the scroll cuts and you refuse to bleed.

There is a reason the scroll is sealed to many.

Not because the words are coded, but because the hearts are calloused.

Not because the revelation is complex, but because the reader is resistant.

 “O ye of little faith, who have set up stumbling blocks before you...”

— TSP 32:52

You placed them there.

Not all at once—but little by little.

A moment of pride.

A refusal to forgive.

A doctrine protected more than the truth itself.

A sin justified.

A commandment postponed.

One by one, the stones stacked.

Until they formed a wall between you and understanding.

And now, what was once clear has become confusing.

What was once simple has become unreachable.

 “Woe unto them that are wise in their own eyes, and prudent in their own sight!”

— Isaiah 5:21

You ask why the mysteries are sealed.

But the scroll responds:

“What have you sealed off within yourself?”

The Spirit cannot enter a temple where pride guards the door.

 “Your iniquities have separated between you and your God, and your sins have hid his face from you, that he will not hear.”

— Isaiah 59:2

The stumbling block is not outside.

It is internal.

It is the unhealed rebellion that refuses to die.

It is the mouth that quotes scripture but will not yield to it.

 “They draw near to me with their lips, but their hearts are far from me.”

— Matthew 15:8

There are some who use truth
as a tool of defense, never letting it become a sword of correction.

They want to teach the sealed portion without first being broken by it.

They want to reveal the hidden things without first being exposed by the light.

 “The word of God is quick, and powerful... piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit... and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart.”

— Hebrews 4:12

But when it cuts them, they hide.

When it rebukes them, they twist.

When it convicts them,

they leave.

And their disobedience becomes a stumbling stone they trip over daily while blaming the very scroll that tried to heal them.

 “This is the condemnation, that light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light...”

— John 3:19

Understand this clearly:

Every commandment ignored adds another stone.

Every Spirit-nudge rejected adds another layer of blindness.

Until soon, even the sacred looks suspicious.

Even the voice of God begins to sound like accusation.

— 1 Peter 2:8

And then they retreat.

They say the scroll is too confusing.

The mystery too strange.
But the mystery was never the problem—your obedience was.

 “He that hateth reproof shall die.”

— Proverbs 15:10

This is why the scroll offends.

It is not because it is cruel—but because it is holy.

And holiness demands change.

It demands release.

It demands surrender.

 “Break up your fallow ground, and sow not among thorns.”

— Jeremiah 4:3

You must tear down the stumbling blocks.

Every excuse.

Every idol.

Every defense mechanism that tells you “this part isn’t for me.”

Because until you remove the stones, you will trip over the truth that was sent to set you free.

 “Remove the stumbling block out of the way of my people.”

— Isaiah 57:14

If you truly want to understand, you must first be undone.

If you truly want to walk in revelation, you must be willing to walk through correction.

And if you dare to tear down what your disobedience has built, you will find the scroll waiting for you on the other side of surrender.

 He does not deny you truth.
He simply refuses to give it to your pride.
Tear down what you built,
and the mystery will rise from the rubble.

🔥 CHAPTER 13

The Sealed Record Was for You

Before you were born, it was hidden.

Not from you,

but for you.

A scroll preserved through centuries of silence, through bloodshed, exile, and distortion—for this moment.

For you.

📜 “But the words which are sealed he shall not deliver, neither shall he deliver the book... For the book shall be sealed by the power of God, and the revelation which was sealed shall be kept in the book until the own due time of the Lord, that they may come forth...

—2 Nephi 27:10

”It was not given to kings.

Not handed to councils.

Not trusted to the churches that bowed to Rome.

It was sealed—

until the Remnant rose.

📜 “And the book is delivered to him that is not learned, saying, Read this, I pray thee: and he saith, I am not learned.”

— Isaiah 29:12

Because the book was never meant for the elite.

It was meant for the humble.

For the scattered bones of Israel who would awaken in the last days and cry out:

“Father, restore us.”

📜 “I saw in the right hand of Him that sat on the throne a book written within and on the backside, sealed with seven seals... and no man in heaven, nor in earth... was able to open the book.”

— Revelation 5:1–3

But behold—

the Lamb prevailed.

He was found worthy.

And He began to open that which was closed.

And now, in this final hour, that same Lamb has awakened you.

Not just to believe—but to behold.

📜 “And one of the elders saith unto me, Weep not: behold, the Lion of the tribe of Judah... hath prevailed to open the book, and to loose the seven seals thereof.”

— Revelation 5:5

You are not here by accident.

The sealed record found you because you are among the sealed.

Because your name is known in the archives of heaven.

Because your hunger unlocked the vault.

📜 “Wherefore the fruit of thy loins shall write... and also the fruit of the loins of Judah shall write... and these two shall be one.”

— 2 Nephi 3:12

The Bible and the Book of Mormon.

The Stick of Judah and the Stick of Joseph.

The foundation and the fulfillment.

And now—

The Sealed Portion:

the record of the end—

and the record of you.

 “And when these things shall come forth... then shall the remnant of our seed know concerning us... and shall know that this is a blessing unto them from the hand of God.”

— 2 Nephi 30:4–6

The world was not ready.

The religious were not worthy.

The proud passed over it.

But to you—

it was always appointed.

This scroll is your confirmation.

That your eyes were meant to see it.

That your heart was prepared for it.

That your blood remembers it.

 “He shall bring again Zion... and shall publish peace... and break forth into joy, for the Lord hath comforted His people.”

— Isaiah 52:7–9

The sealed record was for the sealed ones.

The hidden record for the hidden remnant.

The final testimony for the faithful who would rise before the fire falls.

 He preserved this book for generations just to place it in your hands.
It was always meant for you.

🔥 CHAPTER 14

The Mysteries of God in the Last Days

There is a reason the scroll returned now.

There is a reason you are reading this in this generation.

Not because it was newly written—but because you are finally ready.

Not because truth changed—but because time caught up to it.

📜 “And the Lord hath made it known unto me that these things shall be withheld from the children of men until the day that they shall begin to exercise faith in God and also in His Son, Jesus Christ, even as the brother of Jared did...”

— TSP 1:11

The mysteries were not meant for the casual.

Not for the religious elite.

But for those who would overcome—those who would wrestle with the Spirit until the veil tore and light poured into their bones.

 “But God hath revealed them unto us by His Spirit: for the Spirit searcheth all things, yea, the deep things of God.”

— 1 Corinthians 2:10

In the last days,
truth must come with fire.

Because deception is now global.

Doctrines of devils are packaged as enlightenment.

False prophets have platforms.

And even the elect would be deceived—if it were possible.

 “For there shall arise false Christs, and false prophets, and shall show great signs and wonders... insomuch that, if it were possible, they shall deceive the very elect.”

— Matthew 24:24

So the Father responded.

Not with noise,
but with the sealed voice of His Son.
The mysteries that were once held back are now breaking through the vault.

Not just to warn—but to seal.

Not just to reveal—

but to prepare.

 “For in that day shall the Lord reveal all things... things which have been hidden from the foundation of the world.”

— Doctrine & Covenants 101:32–33

This is why they mocked you.

This is why the religious couldn't follow you.

Because you heard a frequency they were not tuned to.

You felt fire in a scroll they never opened.

And you received instructions they never qualified for.

 “It is given unto you to know the mysteries of the kingdom... but to them it is not given.”

— Matthew 13:11

In the last days,

the sealed shall be unsealed—but only to those whose names are already written.

Not just in a book above,

but in a book within.

— Isaiah 29:14

The mystery is not just information.

It is movement.

It activates the elect.

It awakens the remnant.

It separates the wheat from the tares.

It confirms the ones whom the Father has kept in reserve for this final push before the fire falls.

📜 “The day cometh that shall burn as an oven... but unto you that fear my name shall the Son of righteousness arise with healing in his wings...”

— Malachi 4:1–2

This scroll is part of that fire.

Not for destruction—

but for refinement.

Not to puff you up—but to break you open until the last lie is gone and only covenant remains.

 In these last days, the mysteries are no longer hidden—they are being whispered to those who obey,
to those who overcome,
to those who were born to carry the fire.

The Mysteries of God in the Last Days

Unsealed, not to the world, but to the worthy.

There is a difference between the curious and the called.

The curious ask questions.

The called become the answer.

You are not holding this scroll because you stumbled into it.

You are holding it because you were written into it.

This is not a new doctrine.

This is a long-awaited unveiling.

And it was reserved—not for the powerful, not for the scholars,

but for the faithful.

 “And the Lord hath made it known unto me that these things shall be withheld from the children of men until the day that they shall begin to exercise faith in God and also in His Son, Jesus Christ, even as the brother of Jared did...”

— TSP 1:11

This is that day.

The mystery is being unfolded because a remnant finally remembered what was once forgotten—the law, the covenant,

the name,
the Son,
and the Spirit of Truth.

And now the vault is opening, not to entertain,
but to equip.

Not to be admired, but to be obeyed.

 “For in that day shall the Lord reveal all things—things which have been kept hidden from before the foundation of the world...”

— Doctrine and Covenants 101:32–33

These are not revelations to decorate sermons.

They are instructions for survival.

This is ark-building language.

Every mystery that now unfolds has a mission attached to it.

 “The Spirit searcheth all things, yea, the deep things of God.”

— 1 Corinthians 2:10

This is why you've been uncomfortable.

Why old teachings didn't satisfy.

Why you kept getting pulled into deeper waters when others were content to splash in the shallows.

Because the mystery had your name on it.

And now that the scroll is open,
so is your assignment.

 “He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.”

— Revelation 2:7

The last days are not coming—they are here.

And the mysteries are not optional—they are essential.
Because deception is no longer localized—it's global.

And to withstand it,
you must be rooted in what was sealed.

 “Even him, whose coming is after the working of Satan... with all deceivableness of unrighteousness in them that perish; because they received not the love of the truth...”

— 2 Thessalonians 2:9–10

The sealed portion was always the final lens.

It was always meant to restore balance between Judah and Joseph.

Between fire and water.

Between law and spirit.

Now it has returned—not to sit on shelves, but to pierce hearts.

Not to become another book, but to become a burden to carry and a sword to wield.

 “Behold, I will proceed to do a marvelous work... even a marvelous work and a wonder: for the wisdom of their wise men shall perish...”

— Isaiah 29:14

This is the marvelous work.

Not flashy.

Not mainstream.

But divine.

Built in silence.

Confirmed in fire.

And placed in the hands of the few who were ordained to run with it.

 “And it shall come to pass that the Lord God shall bring forth unto you the words of a book... and it shall be of great worth unto the children of men...”

— 2 Nephi 28:29–30 (flowed)

But only if they repent.

Only if they return.

Only if they receive the Son and His instructions.

 “Unto you it is given to know the mysteries of the kingdom of God: but to others in parables; that seeing they might not see, and hearing they might not understand.”

— Luke 8:10

This is no longer parable.

This is prophecy manifest.

And it is unfolding not on pulpits, but in scrolls like this.

If you are reading,

you are part of it.

You are written in the mystery, and the mystery is now being written in you.

 The sealed has been unsealed—but only for the faithful.

This is your scroll.

This is your hour.

This is the revelation for the last days—and it came looking for you.

🔥 CHAPTER 15

Broken Heart and Contrite Spirit

The gate is narrow, and the key is shattered pride.

Before revelation, there must be rupture.

Before the scroll unfolds, the soul must bow.

The mysteries of God do not enter through intellect, they pass through the cracks in a broken heart.

📜 “Ye shall offer for a sacrifice unto me a broken heart and a contrite spirit.”

— 3 Nephi 9:20

The proud cannot carry the sealed portion.

Their hands are too full of themselves.

But to the shattered,

the humble,

the ones the world forgot—the Lord extends His hand and says:

“Now I can trust you.”

📜 “The Lord is nigh unto them that are of a broken heart; and saveth such as be of a contrite spirit.”

— Psalm 34:18

He does not need your perfection.

He never did.

What He seeks is the heart that has been crushed—not by sin, but by repentance.

Not by shame,

but by surrender.

 “To this man will I look, even to him that is poor and of a contrite spirit, and trembleth at my word.”

— Isaiah 66:2

The deeper the mystery,

the lower you must bow.

Because these are not treasures you dig up—they are gifts that descend when the altar of your heart has been rebuilt.

 “Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me.”

— Psalm 51:10

The contrite spirit does not demand revelation—

it receives it.

It doesn't ask with arrogance, it waits in reverence.

It is not easily offended.

It doesn't flinch when the scroll cuts.

It doesn't argue when the Spirit convicts.

It says: "Search me, O God. I want to be clean."

 "Though the Lord be high, yet hath He respect unto the lowly: but the proud He knoweth afar off."

— Psalm 138:6

This is the hidden gate.

This is the path few find.

Because brokenness isn't glamorous.

Contrition doesn't sell.

But to the Most High, they are incense.

They are keys.

They are foundations for the mysteries to rest upon.

 "Blessed are the poor in spirit: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven."

— Matthew 5:3

You do not qualify by strength.

You qualify by surrender.
He does not give scrolls to the self-righteous.
He gives them to the weeping priest.
To the trembling remnant.
To the one in the wilderness saying:
“Whatever I thought I knew... burn it. Give me You.”

 “They that sow in tears shall reap in joy.”

— Psalm 126:5

The sealed portion is not for the stage—
it is for the inner altar.
And the ones who carry it with power are the ones who dropped their crowns and let the Word rebuild them from nothing.

 Before you can carry revelation, you must collapse into repentance.
A broken heart is not a weakness—it is the doorway into the mystery.

🔥 CHAPTER 16

The Righteous Shall Ask in Faith

Access is not given to the bold, but to the believing.

There is a posture that unlocks the heavens.

It is not loud.

It is not forceful.

It is faithful.

The mysteries of God are not demanded.

They are discerned.

And only the righteous—

those who walk in alignment—are given permission to ask and receive.

📜 “Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you.”

— 3 Nephi 14:7 / Matthew 7:7

But this is not casual asking.

This is not curiosity masked as covenant.

This is the faith that comes from repentance, the cry that comes from the altar, the hunger that comes from obedience.

📜 “And he that seeketh diligently shall find; and the mysteries of God shall be unfolded unto them by the power of the Holy Ghost.”

— 1 Nephi 10:19 (flowed)

There is no shortcut.

No bypass.

No formula that overrides faith.

It is only the righteous—

those who have submitted, been cleansed,

been tried—that receive the invitation to step deeper.

📜 “And if ye shall ask with a sincere heart, with real intent, having faith in Christ, He will manifest the truth of it unto you...”

— Moroni 10:4

This kind of asking moves heaven.

Because it is birthed from relationship, not performance.

It is rooted in covenant, not ego.

It comes from one who wants Him—not just His secrets.

 “If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God... but let him ask in faith, nothing wavering.”

— James 1:5–6

You must believe not just that He can—but that He will answer the obedient.

That He delights to reveal to the humble.

Faith is the currency of the kingdom.

And righteousness is the account it flows from.

You cannot walk in known sin and expect holy scrolls to open.

You cannot mock His instructions and still demand His insights.

 “The Lord is far from the wicked: but He heareth the prayer of the righteous.”

— Proverbs 15:29

The righteous ask in tears, not in arrogance.

They wait in silence, not entitlement.

They seek not to be exalted—but to be transformed.

 “Open thou mine eyes, that I may behold wondrous things out of thy law.”

— Psalm 119:18

If you desire deeper things, the pathway is not louder prayers—but cleaner hands.

If you seek the sealed,

your life must become an altar.

And when righteousness and faith walk together, revelation rains down.

Not just information—but impartation.

Not just answers—

but the presence of the One who is the answer.

 “The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much.”

— James 5:16

 The righteous don't ask to be impressed—they ask to be aligned.

And because of that,
heaven answers.

🔥 CHAPTER 17

Faith Until the End

The scroll does not open halfway.

There is a kind of faith that starts loud—but ends silent.

A faith that burns for a moment—but flickers when pressed.

This is not that kind.

The mysteries of God are not for those who begin.

They are for those who endure.

Those who believe until.

Those who stay when others fall away.

Those who hold the scroll through fire, famine, and silence—and never let go.

 “But he that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved.”

— Matthew 24:13

Because the mysteries are not revealed to the excited—they are revealed to the faithful.

Not to the one who opens the book—but to the one who keeps it even when it feels empty.

 “Behold, I say unto you, that ye must press forward with a steadfastness in Christ... feasting upon the word of Christ, and endure to the end...”

— 2 Nephi 31:20

You cannot visit the secret place—you must live there.

You cannot dip into faith—you must be baptized in it.

Because what is being revealed in these last days requires a backbone of belief, not just a spark of interest.

 “But without faith it is impossible to please Him: for he that cometh to God must believe that He is...”

— Hebrews 11:6

Every scroll you carry will be tested.

Every truth you receive will be challenged.

And the only thing that will keep you when the winds of delusion blow—is a faith rooted in the Rock.

 “And now as I said concerning faith... it is not to have a perfect knowledge of things; therefore if ye have faith ye hope for things which are not seen, which are true.”

— Alma 32:21

This is the kind of faith that finishes.

The kind that holds the sealed portion even when others call it strange.

The kind that walks alone, but walks in peace.

The kind that says:
“If no one else believes,
I still will.”

 “Let us not be weary in well doing: for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not.”

— Galatians 6:9

Do not let go now.

You've come too far.

Heaven is opening scroll by scroll for the faithful.

Not the talented.

Not the famous.

But the ones who stayed.

The ones who kept the oil.

The ones who refused to let the fire die.

— Revelation 12:11

Faith until the end

is not just what gets you through—it's what unlocks the next mystery.

Every page of the sealed book was written for those who would not stop turning them, even when the world turned away.

 Faith is not proven by what you start—but by what you carry until the end.

This scroll was made for finishers.

🔥 CHAPTER 18

Mockers Shall Be Cut Off

To laugh at the mystery is to seal your own judgment.

Not everyone will receive this scroll.

And not everyone is supposed to.

Because the mystery was never meant for mockers.

It is a sword for the faithful—but a stumbling stone for the scornful.

📜 “Behold, ye mockers, for ye shall mourn; for ye shall see your words fall to the earth, and your laughter shall be turned into sorrow.”

— (Spiritual rendering rooted in Isaiah 29 & Proverbs)

To mock what is holy is to choose blindness.

To laugh at what is sealed is to disqualify yourself from its unveiling.

📜 “For the preaching of the cross is to them that perish foolishness; but unto us which are saved it is the power of God.”

— 1 Corinthians 1:18

The scroll is not fragile—but the hearts of the mockers are.
They cannot handle what convicts them.
They cannot endure what exposes them.
So instead of repenting, they ridicule.

— 2 Peter 3:3

The sealed portion is not entertainment.

It is a witness.

It stands as a testimony against the proud,
the religious actors,
the casual churchgoers who would not humble themselves to receive it.

— Jeremiah 23:31

The mockers speak confidently—but they have no oil.

They quote verses—but they have no voice.

They build platforms—
but they have no presence.
And when the sealed portion rises, they rage.

— Amos 5:10

Let it be known:

To mock the sealed word is to curse your own ears.

To belittle revelation is to write your name in the book of resistance.

And in time,
the book will testify against you.

— Mark 3:29

This is why the scroll is not argued.

It is declared.

Because those who are His will hear His voice.

And those who mock it—were never part of the fold.

 “My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me.”

— John 10:27

Do not fear their laughter.

Do not shrink at their sarcasm.

For soon, the mouths that mocked will be shut by the fire.

And the scroll they dismissed will be the scroll that judges them.

 “But they mocked the messengers of God... until the wrath of the Lord arose against His people, till there was no remedy.”

— 2 Chronicles 36:16

 Mockery is not harmless.

It is a mark.

And in the last day,

every mocking voice will bow to the truth they once laughed at.

🔥 CHAPTER 19

TSP 32:52 — The Great Mystery Revealed

The vault opens, but only for the worthy.

At the center of this scroll—at the spine of every sealed word—

there stands a warning,

a rebuke,

a filter spoken by the Spirit through the mouth of Moroni:

📜 “O ye of little faith, who have set up stumbling blocks before you because ye do not ask of the Lord concerning these things. But do not think that ye can just ask of the Lord and he shall give these things unto you. For if ye do not obey his words, then ye are not worthy of his understanding.”

— The Sealed Portion 32:52

This is the great mystery:

It is not hidden by God.

It is sealed by our own unbelief.

It is blocked by our own disobedience.

We want to know,
but we do not want to kneel.

We want to understand,
but we will not surrender.

We want to handle the sacred,
but we refuse to wash our hands.

 “Why do ye call me, Lord, Lord, and do not the things which I say?”

— Luke 6:46

This mystery was never academic.

It is not uncovered by curiosity.

It is not granted to the bold, but to the broken.

Not to the self-appointed,
but to the sanctified.

 “If ye love me, keep my commandments... and I will manifest myself to him.”

— John 14:15, 21 (flowed)

This is the dividing line.

Not between the educated and the unlearned—but between the obedient and the rebellious.

You cannot bypass repentance and expect revelation.

You cannot hold onto sin and receive sanctification.

You cannot be lukewarm and expect the sealed portion to burn within you.

— Revelation 2:17

The mysteries are food for the faithful.

They are sustenance for those who endure.

And to the rest,

they remain sealed—

not because God cannot speak, but because you are not yet ready to listen.

 “He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith...”

— Revelation 3:22

The great mystery is this:

It was always yours—

but it waited until your life became an altar.

It waited until your mouth stopped asking and your heart started obeying.

It waited until you stopped watching others walk in power and finally said,

“Here I am, Father. Burn away anything that blocks Your voice.”

And when that happens—

not before—the sealed becomes open.

The scroll becomes breath.

The Word becomes fire in your bones.

 “For thus saith the Lord... I will take away the stony heart... and I will give you a heart of flesh. And I will put my Spirit within you...”

— Ezekiel 36:26–27 (flowed)

You are not waiting on the scroll.

The scroll was waiting on you.

Now that you've come this far,

now that you've laid down your pride,

now that you've obeyed in secret

when no one was watching—the mystery unfolds.

Because you are no longer just reading it—you are becoming it.

 The mystery was never far away.

It was hidden behind obedience.

And now, through fire, it is revealed to the faithful.

🔥 CHAPTER 20

The Spirit and the Bride Say Come

The invitation is not closed. It is calling.

Now that the sealed has spoken,

now that the vault has cracked, now that the faithful have heard the whisper—

the invitation is released.

Not to the proud.

Not to the religious.

But to the hungry.

To the thirsty.

To the ones who've searched in secret and wept in silence.

📜 “And the Spirit and the bride say, Come. And let him that heareth say, Come. And let him that is athirst come. And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely.”

— Revelation 22:17

This is not a universal acceptance.

It is a divine call—an open gate to those who will enter in righteousness.

To those who will not treat the scroll as spectacle, but as covenant.

 “Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters... yea, come, buy wine and milk without money and without price.”

— Isaiah 55:1

You cannot purchase the sealed portion.

You cannot steal it.

But you can be invited into it.

And the one extending the invitation is not man—

but the Spirit and the Bride.

The Spirit—the Ruach HaQodesh—who testifies of truth.

And the Bride—

the remnant that has made herself ready.

They both cry out together:

“Come.”

If you've heard, then it's your turn to echo the call.
To be a trumpet.
To be a witness.
To be a scroll yourself,
crying in the wilderness:

Prepare the way. The sealed things are being revealed.

 “Say unto the cities of Judah, Behold your God!”

— Isaiah 40:9

The mysteries are not just for contemplation.

They are for commissioning.

And now that you have seen,
you must speak.

Now that you have received,
you must respond.

 “Freely ye have received, freely give.”

— Matthew 10:8

The mystery ends in invitation.
Because the scroll was not the final word.
You are.

You are the living invitation to the next soul.

You are the written testimony that it is still possible to hear from heaven.

To be sealed.

To be restored.

To be made whole in truth.

— Psalm 50:5

This is your moment to extend the scroll.

Not to everyone—

but to the ones the Spirit sends you to.

And when you go, you don’t go alone.

The Spirit and the Bride still say:

“Come.”

 You heard the mystery.

Now become the invitation.

The Spirit is calling.

So must you.

 CLOSING SEAL

The Hidden Is Now Made Plain

Not for all—but for those with eyes to see.

It was never about intellect.

It was never about status.

It was never about how long you studied—but how deep you bowed.

The scroll was always waiting.

Not to be deciphered,

but to be discerned.

Not to be analyzed,

but to be entered.

 “It is the glory of God to conceal a thing: but the honour of kings is to search out a matter.”

— Proverbs 25:2

And now,

what was once sealed... speaks.

What was once buried... rises.

What was once mocked... now judges.

You did not find this by chance.

The scroll found you because your name was written inside it.

Because you were marked for this hour.

— Matthew 13:16

There are those who will never see.

They will pass over this book as if it were nothing.

They will trample pearls because they never desired truth—only attention.

But you...

you saw Him in the mystery.

You felt the Spirit confirm it.

You remembered the covenant.

You said yes when it cost you.

And now, the scroll rests in your hands.

 “Surely the Lord God will do nothing, but He revealeth His secret unto His servants the prophets.”

— Amos 3:7

You were never waiting for another preacher.

Another broadcast.

Another revival.

You were waiting for this—the scroll that awakens sealed ones and seals awakened ones.

You are not a student anymore.

You are a witness.

A keeper of the mysteries.

A forerunner for what comes next.

 “For nothing is secret, that shall not be made manifest; neither any thing hid, that shall not be known and come abroad.”

— Luke 8:17

The hidden is now made plain.

And the plainness itself is the proof—because it bypasses the lofty, and rests on the meek.

And if you have truly received it, then your life will testify louder than your mouth ever could.

So walk worthy of what you've seen.

Guard what has been given.
And remember this always—the mystery did not change you.
The Spirit in the mystery did.

 “For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God.”

— Romans 8:14

 The mystery is no longer hidden.
The veil is torn.
The invitation is sent.
The scroll is alive.
And the faithful... are ready.

✨ FINAL PAGE

Let the Scroll Bear Record

Let this scroll bear record—

That the Most High still speaks.

That the mysteries were never lost—only sealed.

And that those who walk in righteousness will always receive more.

Let it be known—

the faithful did not stumble into revelation.

They were drawn by fire.

They were purified by trial.

They were found worthy of His understanding because they obeyed when it was hard, believed when it was dark, and followed when the voice was still.

Let it testify—that what was hidden has now been declared.

That the two sticks are one in His hand.

That the sealed record was not a myth, but a mandate for the final remnant to rise before the judgment falls.

Let this scroll fall into the hands of the next faithful one.

And may they tremble, repent,
rejoice,
and receive the portion written for them.

The mystery is no longer sealed.

The faithful have heard it.

And the Bride is making herself ready.

 “And the vision of all is become unto you as the words of a book that is sealed... and in that day shall the deaf hear the words of the book...”

— Isaiah 29:11, 18

 “He that is faithful shall overcome the world... and the mysteries of the kingdom shall be his forever.”

— Doctrine & Covenants 76:53 (flowed)

Read. Repent. Rise. Repeat.

The mystery is now in motion.
