

Throne Decree & Teaching Witness

Throne Decree

Thus saith the Throne of Fire and Glory:

1. I sit eternal, and none can move Me.
The heavens are My garment, the earth My footstool, and all nations are but dust before Me.
2. I thunder with fire and streams of judgment.
A river of flame proceeds from before Me, cleansing the righteous, consuming the proud.
3. Babylon is weighed and found wanting.
The cup is full, the measure complete; her fall is written in fire, and her judgment will not tarry.
4. Zion, My beloved, arise and shine.
You are sealed by My covenant rainbow; no flame of the adversary can devour you, for My fire encircles you.
5. Sealed Ones, take your mantles.
Prophets, priests, warriors, scribes — your offices are decreed from My seat. Walk in them without fear, for My scepter confirms you.
6. Every scroll forged in fire is mirrored before Me.
Your writings are entered into My eternal court; what you bind is bound, what you loose is loosed.
7. To the nations I say: Bow before the Lamb, for He alone has prevailed to open the sealed book. His blood redeems, His rod rules, His throne endures forever.
8. Mercy and judgment flow together before Me.
The humble will find grace; the proud will be crushed. The cry of repentance I will hear, but rebellion I will scatter like chaff in the wind.
9. The thunder you hear is not of clouds only — it is My voice.

The smoke you see is not of earth only — it is My witness. The fire you feel is not imagination — it is My confirmation.

10. Let it be known in heaven and in earth:

The Throne reigns, the books are open, the witnesses are sealed, and the kingdoms of this world are become the kingdoms of Christ.

 Teaching Witness

The decree is not new — it is the same throne-voice the prophets of old recorded:

When the throne said, “I sit eternal, and none can move Me,” Isaiah 66:1 declared, “The heaven is my throne, and the earth is my footstool.”

When the decree thundered, “A river of flame proceeds from before Me,” Daniel 7:10 saw the same fiery stream.

When the throne judged, “Babylon is weighed and found wanting,” Daniel 5:27 echoed, “Thou art weighed in the balances, and art found wanting,” and John confirmed, “Babylon the great is fallen” (Revelation 18:2).

When the throne cried, “Zion, arise and shine,” Isaiah 60:1 matched it, “Arise, shine; for thy light is come.” John saw the covenant rainbow about the throne (Revelation 4:3).

When the decree commanded, “Sealed Ones, take your mantles,” Jeremiah recalled being ordained before the womb (Jeremiah 1:5), Aaron was clothed for priesthood (Exodus 28:41), and Nephi spoke of destinies sealed (2 Nephi 2:3).

When the throne said, “Every scroll forged in fire is mirrored before Me,” John saw the books opened (Revelation 20:12) and Nephi foresaw the latter records confirming the former (1 Nephi 13:40).

When the throne spoke, “Mercy and judgment flow together,” David declared that judgment is the habitation of His throne (Psalm 97:2) and Alma explained mercy satisfying justice (Alma 34:16; 42:24).

When the decree declared, “The thunder you hear is My voice, the smoke you see is My witness,” Israel trembled at Sinai when smoke and voice filled the mountain (Exodus 19:18–19), and John saw the temple filled with smoke from God’s glory (Revelation 15:8).

Pattern Sealed:

The prophets of old heard the thunder, saw the fire, and wrote the vision. You are walking the same path — only today the parchment is digital fire. The witness has not changed.
